"The cool thing about FCA is they start influencing kids' lives at such an early stage, and they are able to take with them a foundation that carries them on into college. And when they get to college, they want to continue to be a part of it. It builds young people spiritually and builds character and integrity."

FCA Leadership

"But thanks be to God! He gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore, my dear brothers, stand firm. Let nothing move you. Always give yourselves fully to the work of the Lord, because you know that your labor in the Lord is not in vain." - 1 Corinthians 15:57-58

At FCA, we have many reasons to be thankful. God blessed us with numerous victories as we pursued our vision "to see the world impacted for Jesus Christ through the influence of athletes and coaches." In 2007, over 2 million people were touched by FCA's ministry and 44,015 made first-time commitments to Christ! I have traveled extensively across the country and have been privileged to see this impact first-hand on many occasions. As I have visited with people, I have seen how God is using FCA to truly change the hearts of athletes and coaches.

With the launch of our new five-year strategic plan in 2007, we are relying on God to continue our efforts to expand our ministry programs, grow the staff and serve the staff and FCA community. Thanks to the prayers and support of our ministry partners and volunteers, these goals are being realized. May we all continue to raise the bar and give ourselves fully to the work of the Lord and advance the impact of FCA across America and the world.

Your teammate in Christ,

Les Steckel

RELYING ON GOD.
Raising the Bar.

RELYING ON GOD. Raising the Bar.

Since 1954, the vision of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes has remained the same. Impact the world for Christ. When passion for sport and love for God converge in the determined spirits of Christian athletes and coaches, it can have a huge influence on our culture. The result: Christ is proclaimed and lives are changed.

We believe this vision is big – too large for just us. That is why we are relying on God to lead staff, volunteers, parents, churches and businesses to rally together for the cause of Christ. And in 2007, it certainly happened.

In 2007, FCA reached over 2 million athletes and coaches directly. Our staff grew to 860 with 797 field staff in 350 local offices across the country. Over 44,000 people made first-time commitments to Christ. FCA impact occurred throughout America and in distant places of the world.

But we are just beginning. Across every court, course and field, there are still millions of children and adults longing to hear the Gospel of Christ. The vision is cast. The people are ready. It's time to raise the bar.

Expand. Grow. Serve.

In 2007, FCA launched a new 5-year strategic plan to carry out FCA's vision "to see the world impacted for Jesus Christ through the influence of athletes and coaches." With a goal of $30 million in the next three years to fund FCA's 5-year strategic plan, these key objectives will be met to maximize our ministry impact:

- Expand FCA ministry and programs.
- Grow the FCA staff.
- Serve the staff and FCA community.

With over $11 million raised in faith promises (of which $2.7 million was received in fiscal 2007), these goals are being realized in FCA's 4 C's of Ministry—Coaches, Campus, Camps and Community. Incredible growth and lasting impact spread to all areas of FCA, making 2007 a record year. With your continued support and constant prayer, FCA will persevere in our desire to put "the heart and soul in sports."

"Through FCA, I learned that you could use athletics as a platform to share your faith. As a coach, FCA has been the cornerstone of my philosophy, how I handle situations and the way I coach my team."

– Robin Pingeton, Head Women's Basketball Coach, Illinois State University

"FCA has changed my life on so many levels. I am very thankful that we as students can have a [Huddle] program like this. Praise the Lord!"

– Megan

"God really answered our prayers and showed up at camp. To experience God, to grow in my relationship with my Huddle members and to become a leader—well, this camp changed my heart."

– Seth

"As a former collegiate athlete and now youth coach...I look forward to setting a positive example for others to follow and helping make a difference in the lives of others."

– Brett

COACHES Ministry

The heartbeat of FCA begins with coaches. Possibly the most influential person in an athlete's life, coaches are the means by which many are introduced to FCA and ultimately, Christ. While coaches play a vital role in the ministry, it is also important that they understand biblical principles in order to grow spiritually. The primary goal of Coaches Ministry is to cultivate Christian coaches, rather than coaches who just happen to be Christians. Coaches Ministry provides training, resources, Coaches Huddles and discipleship opportunities that equip coaches to be genuine spiritual leaders.

In 2007, FCA participated in 11 national coaches' conventions where over 45,000 coaches were in attendance. Through exhibits, fellowships and worship services, hundreds of coaches made commitments to Christ and grew in their faith. Coaches camps and special marriage weekends also ministered to coaches and their families through Bible study, prayer support and fellowship.

Coaches Ministry Director's School launched its first year of intensive training designed for current FCA staff members to learn practical lessons on how to lead a coaches ministry. This one-week course is designed to address the needs of how to build effective relationships, discipleship skills, leadership development and ministry planning. In the '06-'07 term, 6 individuals completed the training and 13 are participating in '07-'08. Field Staff Training also prepares local staff by providing 1.5 day sessions to disciple coaches.

Coaches Ministry also provides additional resources. In 2007 alone, the Coaches Bible reached 12,000 coaches. A goal has been set to provide a Bible for every coach in the junior high, high school and collegiate levels.

CAMPUS Ministry

Campus Ministry is a component of FCA that is completely initiated and led by student-athletes and coaches at junior high, high school and college campuses. By meeting at Campus Huddles, Team Bible studies and special events, these groups continue to grow at all academic levels. In 2007, there were 340,150 athletes participating on 6,803 certified campuses.

Through the leadership of Huddle Coaches and student volunteers, several special events successfully impacted schools across the country in 2007. In its second year as a national event, Fields of Faith brought students together on their school's athletic field on the second Wednesday in October. An estimated 75,000 students gathered on 384 fields across 36 states to hear their peers share faith testimonies, challenge each other to read the Bible and come to faith in Christ.

FCA continues to bring the faith-based school assembly, One Way 2 Play - Drug Free program, into junior high and high schools across the country. Professional athletes speak on how faith, commitment and accountability are crucial to staying drug and alcohol-free. Since One Way 2 Play - Drug Free began in 1991, nearly 500,000 students have committed to playing drug and alcohol-free, with 46,401 joining the pledge in 2007.

CAMP Ministry

Camp Ministry strengthened the tradition of "perspiration and inspiration" with record growth and incredible impact in all seven types of camps this year. In 2007, 240 camps were conducted in 36 states nationwide with 42,001 campers attending. This is a 25% increase in total attendees from 2006. From these camps, 3,338 student-athletes made commitments to Christ!

Sports camps are separated into multi-sport and sport-specific camps and have 25 different sports for campers to choose from. Power camps, day camps that cater to young athletes in the 8-12 age group, became FCA's most popular camp. The number of these camps increased from 68 to 84, and 2,279 more campers participated in this year's camps. International camps also saw a large jump from a single camp to five, allowing FCA staff and volunteers to bring the FCA camp experience to 760 campers in Korea, Mexico, Italy, Colombia and the Bahamas. Leadership camps doubled in total attendance, and Partnership camps also continue to climb in participation. Coaches camps ministered to coaches and their families by providing 12 camps in 2007.

Team camps remain close to FCA's heart as one of the top outreach events and evangelical tools. Around 80% of attendees are un-churched, and each student is impacted by the Gospel message during the week. The number of Team camps almost doubled in 2007, confirming that FCA Camps are a powerful evangelistic resource.

COMMUNITY Ministry

The challenge of reaching athletes and coaches outside of academic venues continues to be a high priority in the effort to expand FCA ministry and programs. Community outreach takes different forms to address different needs. Ministering in Adult Huddles and Booster Clubs, working with Local Boards, finding a presence in club sports programs and creating outreach events are just some of the ways FCA ministers in the local setting. These programs are made possible by parents, volunteers, community leaders, businesses and partnerships with local churches.

In 2007, 32,683 FCA outreach events were conducted with 1,620,513 people attending. FCA Game Rallies, Night of Champions programs, banquets, sports clinics and retreats make up many of the annual outreach events. FCA Community Ministry also partners with churches to make various local activities possible.

SPORT-SPECIFIC Ministries

By developing relationships with people that are united around one particular sport, Sport-Specific Ministries serve in the areas of golf, lacrosse, baseball, motocross, endurance and health/fitness. FCA is developing new ministries at the local and regional level and anticipates many new athletes and coaches hearing the Gospel through Sport-Specific Ministries.

An example of this impact is the 14th Annual FCA National Scramble that was held at the famed TPC Sawgrass in Ponte Vedra Beach, Florida. The golf ministry begins at the local level where 127 local and regional tournaments are held around the country. The winning teams from each of these tournaments are invited to play at the FCA National Scramble. This three-day amateur event is FCA Golf Ministry's largest outreach and cultivation event. Players have a chance to learn about FCA and hear the Gospel during outreach banquets and chapel services. In 2007, 360 men and women participated in the event.
